Other

- I signed on to the "Neo-Humanist Statement of Secular Principles and Values: Personal, Progressive, and Planetary" from the Institute for Science and Human Values, 2010. I can't say I self-identify as a "neo-humanist," but I endorse the statement, which is the sixth major "humanist manifesto." The prior five are the Humanist Manifesto (1933), Humanist Manifesto II (1973), Secular Humanist Declaration (1980), A Declaration of Interdependence (1988), and Humanist Manifesto 2000 (guess).
- Comment on "Trade Regulation Rule on Telemarketing Sales, Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, Request for Comment." Federal Trade Commission call for change to 16 CFR Part 310. The proposed modification to the Telemarketing Sales Rule is to allow prerecorded calls when the telemarketer has an existing business relationship (EBR). This modification is contrary to statute (47 USC 227(b)(1)(B) provides no authority for an EBR exemption) and subject to abuse (as is already seen with the FCC's EBR exemption, which also is contrary to statute). 2004
- "Gauquelin artikler." my "Mars Effect Chronology" used as a basis for this Danish collection of articles on Michel Gauquelin, 2004.
- I signed a petition to support the restoration of the pledge of allegiance to its pre-1954 form by removing "under God" (as did my wife, Kathleen), 2004.
- I was a signer of the Franklin Society's petition against banning therapeutic cloning submitted to Congress May 15, 2002 in objection to the Brownback-

- Landrieu bill, S. 1899, which would have banned human cloning. It did not pass.
 - I signed this open letter to Intel opposing its prosecution of Randal Schwartz, 1996.

IN MEMORIAM -- CHRIS HEWARD

We are sad to report the death of our HSGP member, Chris Heward. Chris fought a brave battle against an aggressive esophageal cancer diagnosed late last year. Chris, who was president of the Kronos Science Laboratory, spoke to HSGP last April, on Anti-Aging Medicine. Our deepest sympathy to his son, Abe, and wife Pam -- both HSGP members. A memorial celebration of Chris' life was held in early January.

 - Marcello Truzzi review of the book Psychic Sleuths in the Journal of Parapsychology 58(4, December 1994):432-441 said "Jim Lippard's essay on Bill Ward is, in my view, the most judicious and fair-minded appraisal in the book. In an exemplary fashion Lippard concludes his analysis by simply and moderately saying 'the case for Ward's psychic abilities remains at best unproved, and certainly does not support his own claims of success and accuracy.' Lippard's essay strikes me as the main analysis in the book clearly out for truth rather than blood." There was another review by B. Davies in the Journal of the Society for Psychical Research 60(8, 1995):282.
